

P.A. & Privatisation

Today we know better, that all traditional systems between government, public administration will change.

I believe strongly, that along with government and private economy, the role of dependent and independent workers or partners will change. Responsibility and Premiums will shift to the element / partner, who has to respond for success or failure.

Joerg Kowollik as founder of CONact was responsible in his prior job for privatisation in the Health sector of a leading East German country .

The Task is always the combination of realizing or make decisions in an uncertain environment. Seeing this, we use in different situation an advisory approach called:

Draft check:

Gives in a limited (short) timeframe results concerning a unstructured / unsecure and often complex situation.

Often a Due-Diligence process needs too much time or is not cost-efficient for a certain situation. Therefore you need a specific toolset to get a result or decision platform in time.

Example:

A minister (in one case minister of economy) needs in 8 weeks a transparent decision basis for next year budgeting:

Which regions / municipal should be prioritised as a touristic / regeneration area or for developing certain industries ?

What investment is needed to bring them on an operating working level according to european standards?

Impact and what risks, if government doesn` t decide now ?
